

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL BREWERY PRIVACY POLICY

By accessing and using the website, you agree to be bound by our Privacy Policy then in effect and by all applicable law. If you do not agree with our Privacy Policy, you should not access or use the website for any purpose.

What Information Do We Collect?

Our website collects your personally identifiable information when you voluntarily submit it on this website, such as when you sign up to become a Beer Activist. For example, you may submit and we may collect your e-mail address, state, zip code and whether you are a member of a homebrewing club, including the name of that club, or other similar information when you choose to provide it or otherwise submit it to us through our website.

We also may collect non-personally identifiable information when you access and use our website.

Please note that we are not responsible for the data collection, privacy practices or policies of any third-party websites that we link to or that may link to our websites. We encourage you to read the privacy policy of every website you visit.

Cookies

Like many other websites, we use cookies for various reasons. Cookies are bits of text that are placed on your computer's hard drive when you visit certain websites. We use cookies to tell us, for example, whether you've visited us before or if you're a new visitor, and to help us understand what areas of the website are of greatest interest to you. Cookies are not used to identify you and will not collect personally identifiable information.

Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can configure your browser to stop accepting new cookies, to notify you when you a new cookie is received, and to disable existing cookies. If you choose to disable cookies in your browser, however, you may not be able to take full advantage of all our website's features.

How Do We Use Your Information?

By submitting information, including personally identifiable information, to our website, you consent that any information you submit to Support Your Local Brewery, other users, and other third-parties over the website may be collected and used to

- evaluate whether to accept you for membership (and it may be shared with affiliated associations for this same purpose)
- monitor and analyze our business or website operations
- be incorporated into our database for purposes of contacting you with Support Your Local Brewery action alerts and other related information.

Furthermore, any communication, material or content you submit, post or access on an interactive discussion board, blog, other public area, or other interactive function on the website is a public or other non-private communication, and may be viewed by the general public or by the other website users to whom you share or provide it.

Legally Required and Other Related Disclosures

In addition to the foregoing, we may release your personally identifiable information to law enforcement, governmental authorities, or third parties if (i) required to do so by law, subpoena, search warrant, court order, or other legal process, (ii) requested by law enforcement or other governmental authorities, in our discretion, or (iii) we otherwise have a good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to protect the rights, property, or personal safety of the Association or third parties.

How Do We Protect Personally Identifiable Information You Provide to Us?

We make commercially reasonable efforts to protect the personally identifiable information that we receive from you from loss, misuse, and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction, which may include the use of firewalls and other security measures on our servers. However, the Association does not warrant or represent that its level of security meets or exceeds any particular standard, and no server or internet transmission is ever 100% secure or error-free. You should take this into account when submitting personal or confidential data on any websites, including ours. Similarly, any information that you send us in an email message or other form through the websites is not confidential.

What Personally Identifiable Information is Collected from Children?

This website is a general audience website with content directed primarily at individuals 21 years of age or older. We do not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from those under the age of 21. If you are under the age of 21, please do not provide personally identifiable information of any kind whatsoever.

What Happens to Your Personally Identifiable Information in a Corporate Change of Control?

In the event of a corporate change in control resulting from, for example, a sale to, or merger with, another entity, we may transfer your personally identifiable information to the new party in control.

What About Changes to This Privacy Policy?

We reserve the right to change or update this Privacy Policy at any time, and will notify users of our website by posting such changed or updated Privacy Policy on this page. Any changes or updates will be effective immediately upon posting to this website. Under certain circumstances, we may also elect to notify you of, and/or obtain your consent to, changes or updates to our Privacy Policy by additional means, such as by posting a notice on the front page of our Web Site or by sending you an email.

How Can You Ask Questions or Raise Concerns?

If you have other questions or concerns about our privacy policy or data use, please call 303-447-0816 or email us at info@supportyourlocalbrewery.org
